

MEDIA MATTERS

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

RECOMMENDED for YEAR 7 & 8 STUDENTS

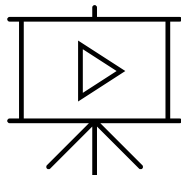

MEDIA MATTERS is a seminar that develops critical thinking skills and become more media literate, which means they can evaluate, analyse, and interpret media messages effectively. This can help students make informed decisions about the media content they consume, and also develop an understanding of media ethics and responsibility. Furthermore, teaching about media can also promote diversity and inclusion. By exposing students to diverse media content, they can learn about different cultures, perspectives, and experiences, which can help them appreciate and respect differences in people. It can also help students develop empathy and compassion towards others.

SEMINAR AIMS:

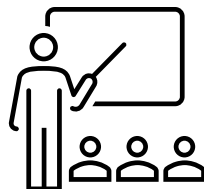

1. To help students understand the different types of media, such as television, movies, books, and social media, and their impact on society and culture.
2. To teach about the positive and negative effects of media, such as entertainment, education, information, and advertising.
3. To encourage critical thinking and analysis of media messages, and to teach how to evaluate and interpret media content.
4. To promote media literacy skills, such as media production, communication, and collaboration, and to encourage students to create their own media content.
5. To teach about media ethics and responsible media use, such as copyright, plagiarism, privacy, and safety.
